

ONE NATION RUN

Over 600,000 Canadian children currently live in unsafe housing, face hunger or poor health, and have limited opportunities for growth and personal development. The reality is that a significant number of Canadian children are inhibited from fulfilling their full potential because of the consequences of poverty. World Vision Canadian Programs develops national strategies with community-based organizations to advance the peace and well-being of children, their families, and the communities in which they live.

Join The One Nation Run, in support of World Vision, in their goal to end Canadian Poverty.

Bryce Dymond, a runner, a community activist and a World Vision volunteer has a distinctly Canadian vision to see “every Canadian child live glorious and free.” This summer, Bryce is running a coast-to-coast marathon to raise awareness about poverty in Canada, and to raise funds to help stop it.

Believing that every Canadian can become an agent of change in their own community, Bryce invites community members to donate to the One Nation Run to fight child poverty. Community members can also join Bryce as he runs through their community, raising even more pledges for this important cause.
